

KEEP TO THE WORK

President Harrison Believes in Organization.

WILSON FOR AN EXTRA SESSION

Carlisle Says the Condition of Finance May Make an Extra Session an Imperative Necessity.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Officials and others who have talked with President Harrison since election say that he takes a deep interest and an active part in the consideration of plans for the future conduct of the republican party. They say that in their talks with him the president's utterances have tended to encourage them to activity in the work of organizing and strengthening the party. There has been, they say, no despondency in what he has said and he wastes no time in vain regrets, but is earnest in the feeling that more than ever there is need for compactness and unity of purpose in the party.

The discussion of the reorganization in the sense, not of change in principle or policy, but of perfecting the management and methods, has already been taken up by leading republicans and correspondence looking to the strengthening of the organization as begun. A permanent organization with workers who will keep the work going all the year around, and every year, instead of trying to do the work of four years in the few months before a presidential election, is what is aimed at.

Wilson Favors a Special. Representative W. L. Wilson of West Virginia, chairman of the democratic national convention, a leading member of the committee on ways and means, against whose re-election a particularly vigorous fight was waged by the republicans of that state, and whose name had been mentioned as the probable attorney general in President Cleveland's cabinet, strongly favors the calling of a special session of congress to consider tariff legislation. "The true worth and value of a tariff bill," he said, "cannot be tested in a short time, and the first effects appear sometimes to be what they really are not. I think it would be most impudent to place a new tariff bill before the country just previous to the elections of 1894. For this reason I favor the extra session idea, and think the sooner the proposed tariff changes go into effect the better will the final result be for our party."

Senator Carlisle's Opinion. Senator Carlisle, who is known as one of Mr. Cleveland's closest personal friends, was in Washington, en route to Chicago, where he goes to visit his son's family. He knows nothing of the intention of the president-elect respecting an extra session of congress, but Senator Carlisle said he did not believe Mr. Cleveland could tell whether or not he would call an extra session. It would all depend upon conditions not yet developed, and which in the nature of things could not develop later on. "If there is an extra session," he said, "it will probably not meet until late in the fall. It depends on circumstances. The tariff alone will not furnish sufficient reason for an extra session. The financial affairs of the government may be in such shape as to make an extra session imperative."

May Be Necessary. "It appears probable that we shall find that there is not enough money in the treasury for the needs of the government. There is a situation in the treasury which every thoughtful man who has considered the matter has foreseen. There is an accumulation of deficiencies and obligations which have been contracted and will come over to us."

"It may be that this situation will furnish reason enough why an extra session should be called. We shall have to see what congress does at this session. If they do not repeal the Sherman law relating to the purchase of silver, and take such other action as the situation demands, we may be swamped. Upon these things depend the calling of an extra session."

PETROFF SEEMINGLY BOINCED.

The Alaskan Special Agent Dismissed From the Census Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Superintendent of Census Robert P. Porter this afternoon discharged Ivan Petroff, the special agent who prepared the reports of Alaska for the tenth and eleventh censuses. In his letter to the secretary of the interior, Mr. Porter says: "Having acquainted myself with all the facts in relation to this matter, I regret to say that no extenuating circumstances and therefore no recommendation of my action." Mr. Porter further said that complete history of Petroff's action in regard to the state department transaction precludes the supposition which he had entertained before making a thorough examination of the case that Petroff was suffering from mental depression. Prof. James H. Blodgett of the census office has been placed in charge of the Alaska work, and will after carefully verifying it in every particular superintend its final publication. The accuracy of this report does not depend on Petroff, as many other experts, special agents and enumerators are employed. Secretary Noble in this afternoon approved Superintendent Porter's action. In regard to the alleged charges against Howard Sutherland, Superintendent Porter says he has heard nothing save newspaper rumors. He pronounced the alleged confession of Sutherland as being likely a "fake" and believes that the whole story has been greatly exaggerated.

STERILIZE IMMIGRANTS.

The Prohibition Does Not Extend to Poor American Families.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Acting Secretary Spaulding of the treasury department has issued a circular to collectors of customs in regard to the entry of vessels carrying immigrants. According to the circular the department has received authentic assurances that the danger of cholera infection still exists, and the measures of precaution which have been heretofore observed cannot be materially relaxed without imperiling the public safety. The objections to the unrestricted admission of steerage immigrants do not apply to vessels in which the steerage is occupied by a United number of citizens and residents of the United States and their families, who are likely to avail themselves of the cheaper fares afforded by steerage tickets in returning to this country.

Rosecrans is Ill. — General Rosecrans, registrar of the treasury, has been confined to his hotel for two weeks suffering from nervous prostration. He did not respond as rapidly as usual to medical treatment, and his friends feared that he would be stricken with paralysis, slight symptoms of which appear. He is reported today, however, as being much better, the dangerous symptoms having disappeared. As soon as he is strong enough he will go to Fort Monroe or take a trip to the Bermudas to recuperate.

IRON AND STEEL.

The Iron Age Reports on the Condition Trade and Its Prospects.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Iron Age will say tomorrow: "The excitement incident to the elections has naturally led to a quiet week, emphasizing the dullness which has been caused for some time past through the previous covering of requirements for the balance of the year and for the first quarter of 1893. This has been notably true in pig iron and soft steel. In finished iron and steel makers have been well supplied with work thus far, but in lines and some sections are growing uneasy about full employment during the winter season. The latter generally shows some falling off in consumption, particularly in all branches in which outdoor work is necessary. Pig iron is steady in all the leading markets, but is quiet so far as new transactions are concerned. Buyers have well covered and sellers are comfortably off for orders. The former have in their favor the approach of the duller season and growing production, which in the latter can point to the fact that their consumption has exceeded all expectations. There have been sales in the provision market and in eastern Pennsylvania of Bessemer pig. An interesting transaction is reported of the buying, for six months delivery, of a large quantity of Bessemer pig by a street rail mill for conversion into blooms at a tonnage rate by an adjoining large steel plant."

Billets have been quiet, with further reports of good prices paid for spot lots. Rumors are afloat, however, that two leading brands of the Pittsburgh district have been offered for prompt delivery at a price which is close to the lowest for the past six months. Our Philadelphia correspondent reflects the complaints of some buyers that the mills are postponing deliveries on old contracts in order to avail themselves of the opportunity to sell spot steel at better figures. Muck bars are showing an easier tendency in Eastern Pennsylvania, are reported as being steady and quiet in the Pittsburgh district. Eastern steel rail mills record the first moderate sized transactions for some time, and the Chicago mills claim to be well supplied with orders for some time to come. There is no indication as yet that the usual demand for renewal on the part of the trunk line will soon appear in the markets. The majority of mills depend upon the renewals for winter work. Bars are weakening a little in the eastern and the Chicago markets. Structural iron and steel is dull in all sections so far as new business is concerned. A local mill has sold 200 tons of beams for New York delivery. The pipe trade has received some very good orders lately and shown considerable activity, with a possibility of some advance in the price. Old material is again quiet in all markets, the recent interest in it having subsided.

LYING IN BED DEAD

An Old Resident of Grand Ledge Cruelly Murdered.

HIS HEAD CRUSHED WITH AN AX

Alone in His House an Unknown Assassin Deals Him the Fatal Blow.

GRAND LEDGE, Nov. 16.—William Landman was found murdered in bed this afternoon. His skull was horribly crushed and his head mangled. The bed was covered by the brains and blood of the unfortunate man. Landman was 75 years old and lived with a family, the members of which have been away visiting for several days. When they returned there was no sign of life about the house, and entering Landman's room they found the old man lying in bed dead. There were evidences of a hard struggle, but his age prevented his making any strong resistance to his assailant. He had evidently been dead for some time, at least twenty-four hours. Landman has not been seen since Monday, but nobody suspected anything wrong. Robbery is the supposed intent of the murderer, but Landman had no money. It is believed that somebody broke into the house and being recognized by the old man brutally murdered him to prevent his bearing witness against them.

SHE HANDED A GUN.

A Plucky Woman Shoots a Bear and Saves a Life.

GRAND HAVEN, Nov. 10.—An unusually thrilling story of hair-breadth escape on the part of an Indian hunter is reported here. Bear have become quite numerous in the forests in the vicinity of Sullivan, a small lumber town on the Muskegon, Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad southeast of Muskegon, so much so that the hunters have been attracted in there this fall from all sections of the country. A party of Indiana hunters went in there last week and built camps and settled down for a month's hunt. On Saturday last one of the party succeeded in starting a bear and two cuts from a jungle, and after an hour or so overtook them on the edge of a clearing in which a small woodman's shanty was located. He carried a double-barreled gun, and with it shot the two bears dead in their tracks. The bear, instead of running off, as would naturally be expected, pitched upon him in a desperate spirit of revenge for the loss of her cubs. He attempted to defend himself with a small Indian hatchet, but she knocked it out of his hand, closed in upon him, and in a moment would have squeezed out his life had he not been helped by a rifle in the hands of the woodman's wife, who happened to witness the fray, plowed through Bruin's brain.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Horrible Fate of a Little Detroit Boy.

DETROIT, Nov. 16.—Alfred Webb, the 5-year-old son of George Webb, was run over and crushed by a stone wagon driven by Andrew Lauray, near the corner of Willis and Second avenues, yesterday afternoon. The little fellow, with two girl companions, was playing in the street when the wagon passed by and they all jumped on to take a ride. After riding about 100 feet, the latter, who was standing on the wagon, which was very low, attempted to jump off without asking the driver to stop and fell directly in front of the hind wheel. The driver attempted to pull up, but the heavy wheel passed over the poor boy's chest and he could do so. His chest was frightfully crushed, but as he was still breathing the Harper hospital ambulance was called. He was driven to that institution as quickly as possible, but expired a few minutes after reaching there.

BACK TO CHINA.

Twenty-Eight Contrabands in a Detroit Jail to Be Returned.

ADRIAN, Nov. 16.—Ah Jew and Ah Him, two Chinamen in the United States unlawfully, were captured on the Wabash train here last Friday night, and turned over to the authorities for safe keeping. They were lodged at the jail, where they were taken care of until Monday morning, when Special Inspector Hiram Smoke of Detroit, the man who arrested them, and Deputy Sheriff Ferguson of this city took them back to Detroit to await trial. The Detroit authorities have twenty-eight celestials in the jail there, most of whom will undoubtedly be taken to San Francisco, and headed for China.

KICKED THE HALE OVER.

Charlotte Man Tires of Life in Toledo, So Suicides.

CHARLOTTE, Nov. 16.—Dispatches from Toledo state that Bertrand Parr, a prosperous flour and feed merchant, hung himself in his storage barn at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He had stood on a bale of straw, fixed a halter rope in the rafters, put his head through the nose and kicked the bale over. He was 24 years of age and leaves a young widow. Despondency was the cause. His father committed suicide by shooting himself ten years ago. Parr and his wife were raised here, and went to Toledo three years ago. Their parents are wealthy farmers.

BEUEN IS INDIGNANT.

BEUEN, Nov. 15.—The good people of Beuena and Beuena are very indignant, all because the Toledo & Ann Arbor Railroad company recently parked their depot and transported it westward a half mile beyond its original location. SUES TO RECOVER CITY LAND.

STOUT CITY, Ia., Nov. 16.—Abraham Haas of Montreal has started suit here to recover 160 acres of land in the northern part of the city partly platted and twenty-three lots in the center of the city, the whole worth a quarter million of dollars. Haas came here in 1857 and bought the property. When he died he bequeathed the business to his son, who was a well-known builder of his brother Isaac, who paid the taxes until 1872, when, supposing Abraham had been drowned in the St. Lawrence river, he secured title to the land as the nearest heir. He has since sold it. A leading firm of attorneys has taken the case and expect to establish Haas' title.

NEW HAWAIIAN CABINET.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—The steamer Australian arrived from Honolulu today. Shortly before the steamer sailed the queen had summoned G. C. Wilson to appear before her to form a new cabinet. He represented the following names: G. N. Wilcox, premier and minister of the interior; Cecil Brown, attorney general; M. P. Robinson, foreign affairs, and P. C. Jones, finance. SMITH SET SCOTT FREE.

One of the Complications in the "Rustler" Trouble Cleared Up.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 16.—The report of the grand jury in the United States circuit court for Wyoming today terminated one of the complications arising out of the late "rustler" war in this state. After the invasion suits were begun in the federal courts by the big stockmen against forty small stockmen, or so-called "rustlers" of Johnson county, to restrain them from holding so-called illegal round-ups. While on his way to serve process in these suits, George Wallman, a deputy United States marshal, was assassinated. F. Smith, one of the defendants in the invasion suit, while in Cheyenne a few weeks later, was arrested on a charge of conspiracy to deprive Henry A. Blair of Chicago, one of the plaintiffs in the suit, of his rights under the United States laws. Smith was held a month in jail without a hearing. Then his bail was fixed at the excessive sum of $40,000. He furnished this, but was held in jail a week, and was released.

TERRY AND THE BOX

Grand Master Powderly Delivers an Address

RECOURSE TO THE BALLOT

He Says the Strike of the Future Must Be for the Rule of the People. Reports of Officers.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—General Master Workman Powderly, in his annual address at the opening session of the sixteenth general assembly of the Knights of Labor today, said the order had made a remarkable increase in membership and influence during the past year. Speaking of the labor movement, he said it had a tendency to divide up, while that of the opposing force—capital—was to consolidate. Every prominent member of a labor organization who had taken offense at something done set about organizing a new society of labor. The only result was a division of strength, isolation and final death. The crying need of the hour was an organization in which every interest might be cared for.

WOULD RESTRICT IMMIGRATION.

After speaking at length on the question of ballot reform Mr. Powderly proceeded to dwell in detail on the matter of immigration. Six years ago he had declared in favor of the restriction of immigration, and although his views were not received, he had not changed them. He believed in the total exclusion of all immigrants who are not self-supporting on landing in this country. There should be a fixed term of years, ten would be enough, during which no immigrant would be permitted to land unless he could prove that he had sufficient means to sustain himself and those depending upon him for one year. He forewarned great danger, not alone to labor, but to the whole country, if the immigration question was not heretofore handled in the near future.

LESSONS OF THE STRIKE.

Strikes and lock-outs next claimed Mr. Powderly's attention. During the last six months the people of this land had witnessed such attempts at making the power of aggregated wealth supreme as were never dreamed of before. Whether it was at Comd' d' Alene, at Homestead, at Buffalo or in Tennessee, the instinct which guided the rapacious hand was the same. The underground wars which were waged these attacks all ran to the same center from all these places. Centralized wealth drew the scattering fire of divided labor, and as a natural result, labor lost in each battle. If the lessons are carefully taken to heart, the sacrifice may not be in vain.

STRIKE OF THE FUTURE.

The railroad men are public highways, and they belong to the whole people, and the whole people should own them. The campaign which has just closed witnessed an interesting if not intelligent discussion of the tariff, but there is more of a revenue illegally drawn from the pockets of merchants, manufacturers and workmen in one month of the year by the railroad and telegraph than we pay in tariffs in a year.

WHERE'S JOHN HEATLEY?

BAY CITY, Nov. 16.—John Heatley has disappeared from town. It was found that a young woman with whom Heatley has been on amiable terms, was also missing. Her parents know nothing of her whereabouts, but suspect that she and Heatley have flown together. The news of the disappearance had the effect of bringing to the front a large number of creditors. Mrs. Heatley evidently knows nothing about her husband's disappearance.

RELIGION AT ANN ARBOR.

DIPHTHERIA IN THE SCHOOLS.

BAY CITY, Nov. 16.—Health Officer Elliott says that there is no reason for despondency, as which prevails in this city. The disease is not on the increase. There are thirty-five cases all told, which is two less than one month ago. St. James' school was closed last night for two weeks on account of the prevalence of the disease among its pupils.

SLUNG TOO MUCH STYLE.

ANN ARBOR, Nov. 16.—The dents had a lively fracas yesterday afternoon. The sophs said one of the freshmen had put on too much style, so they caught him after class, and he delivered a windy speech at their dictation and finally "bumped" him. His classmates failed in their attempt to rescue him. The affair attracted a big crowd.

MISSING FROM GAINES.

GAINES, Nov. 16.—Frank Taubitz, the 19-year-old son of Augustus Taubitz, on November 8 left his home and his whereabouts have since been a mystery. President Clute of the M. A. C. will be present at the Paw Paw and Union City meetings.

ROMANCE OF AN EGG.

MARION, Nov. 16.—It is possible that a romantic incident may be hatched from the following egg incident: A young lady of Eden placed her name and address on an egg before selling it to a stranger, but gave the matter no further thought. Time passed on, as time will, and lo! a letter. The egg had been received by an employee of a confectioner in Herkimer, N. Y., who kept it and wishes to correspond with the romantic Michigan girl. She is inclined to do so. Who can tell what may happen?

NEW TRAINS FOR LANSING.

LANSING, Nov. 16.—For several years the Lansing board of trade has been trying to induce the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway company to run an extra passenger train on its Lansing branch, which would reach this city in the morning and leave in the afternoon, hoping thereby to secure a large amount of trade from the south, which has heretofore gone to Jackson and other cities. The Lake Shore officials have at last come to time and announce that such a train will be run, commencing next Monday.

The officers agreed to unite in a request that Governor-elect Rich appoint General G. M. Deam of this city quartermaster-general and Lieutenant Darnott of Adrian inspector-general.

LANSING, Nov. 16.—Cases heard: 100, David G. Vanderhoff vs. John Pennington; 107, George S. Wilson, administrator, vs. the Michigan Central Railroad company; 108, Timothy Mahoney vs. The Detroit Public Body; 109, The Wilkin Manufacturing company vs. the H. M. Loud & Sons Lumber company; 111, George N. Potter et al. vs. Gilbert W. Lee; 112, Leo Austrian & Co. vs. Nathan Springer. Thursday's call: The state cases.

STRIKE OF THE FUTURE.

The strike of the future must be a strike for the rule of the people. They could defy politics as they pleased, but they must be politicians or be slaves of politicians. They might shirk their responsibilities as citizens, but they could not shirk the duty which follows a neglect of duty. In a word, they must be law makers or law breakers. The battle of the future must be fought out on different lines from those which have marked the shifting progress of the past. These lines must diverge from and center at the same point.

CHARGES AGAINST A ROCHESTER CLOTH.

The report of Secretary-Treasurer Hayes showed that the expenditures during the year were $59,794, leaving a total on hand of $355. He admitted that the benefit insurance association of the order was partially a failure. The executive board in its report says the boycott of the Rochester clothing company has taken millions of dollars worth of trade from it. The board makes grave charges against Master Workman Hughes of conspiracy in Rochester, and intimates that the jury was bribed by the clothing combine. The result of this case, it says, indicates the extreme danger so organized labor from corrupted congresses, legislatures and courts of law.

THE BOARD, REFERRING TO A DESIRE OF WORKMEN TO SECURE HOMES, SUGGESTS THAT THE ORDER ESTABLISH A HOMESTEAD ORGANIZATION.

At an afternoon session of the knights the report of the committee on law was submitted and considered, and there was an animated debate over the adoption of the submission of law to the people for approval. The proposition was adopted to insert the referendum in the platform, which is the constitution of the order. A clause was also adopted advocating the establishment of labor employment bureaus in each state.

MEETING AT HOMESTEAD.

HOMESTEAD, Nov. 16.—A meeting of the strikers was held at the Homestead association was held at the risk this afternoon. National officials of the Amalgamated association were present. The striking mechanics, who are out in sympathy, also presented themselves at the door, but were refused admittance. The meeting was for the purpose of organizing the members of the Amalgamated association on an individual expression of opinion on the present situation. Nothing of a definite character was done. They expect to arrive at some conclusion tomorrow.
